

Macnas Privacy Statement

MACNAS, as the data collector, may collect any personal information from visitors to this site. This information is used only to respond to enquiries and to monitor site usage. Email addresses received as part of an enquiry are only retained as long as the enquiry remains open.

By submitting your data you consent to the use of that information as set out above.

Where personal data is requested through forms, such data is only used for the purpose stated on the form and will not be given or sold to any third parties.

The Personal Information you supply when you join one of our email lists will be held and used by MACNAS to keep you up-to-date with our events and news.

Each email we send you gives the opportunity to unsubscribe at any time, or you can ask us to do this by emailing us at admin@macnas.com

If you would like to amend the information you have provided or think that our records are incorrect, please email us at admin@macnas.com to update us.

Cookies and logging of IP addresses are used to enable MACNAS to monitor site traffic and repeat visitor statistics. These statistics will not include information that can be used to identify any individual. Such information is anonymous and held on a temporary basis.

This privacy policy only covers the Macnas website at www.macnas.com. Websites linked to from this site are not covered by this policy.

MACNAS will at all times comply with the requirements of the GDPR. We are committed to ensuring that your information is secure, and we will take all steps reasonably necessary to protect this information against unauthorized access and use.